

Welcome to the next issue of the Burdett-Coutts Art & Design Newsletter!

Art and Design Newsletter

Issue 2: April 2020

Although we have all been away from school for over a month now, I thought you might like some new creative activities to try!

Do please upload any of your Art and Design work to Google Classrooms. I would love to see what you have been creating!

Love,
Miss Roberts

xx

PS: Please keep your Angela Burdett-Coutts competition entries safe at home. Judging will take place when school reopens again.

For further details about the competition & the St Stephen's Week 3D art work, please see the previous Art and Design Newsletter.

Inside this issue:

Art and design at home	1
Art and design online	1
Competition	1

Activities to do at home

The Design Museum has lots of activities on their website that you might like to try at home.

Some need downloading and printing but there are lots of projects that you can make using materials in your recycling box.

Take a look here >

TATE KIDS

On the Tate Kids Gallery you can upload your creations.

Please read this online safety notice before using this resource.

Competition

The Elephant Parade is an outdoor exhibition of painted statues to raise awareness of the need for elephant conservation. The elephants have travelled all

Go on a virtual tour of the National Gallery here > There are many galleries around the world opening up for virtual tours.

What can you see at the Musee d'Orsay in Paris, the Van Gogh Museum in Amsterdam, the Uffizi in Florence or the Guggenheim in New York? Let me know what you saw via Google Classrooms.

The 'Get Arty at Home' project has lots of free activities to download here > over the world. Maybe you spotted some in London a couple of years ago?

The organisers of the Elephant Parade have a competition for both children and adults to create a new design.

Winning designs will be made into life sized baby

There are many art and design activities online too. Have a look at:

Mr Carden is kindly sending out logins for Busy Things. If you haven't received yours yet, he's working very hard to make it happen soon!

elephant statues!

All the details and the entry form are available here on their website > The closing date is 28th May and it is free to enter! Just upload your design back onto the website.

Good luck! I would love to see your designs!